Elevating Compliance Offerings for Leading Providers

Compliance is a moving target, but it doesn't have to be a game of chance. When it comes to labor law posters, PosterElite, one of the most trusted names in compliance, is a leading force in making workplace compliance effortless.

For U.S. employers, maintaining up-to-date labor law posters is a vital part of workplace compliance, ensuring employees are informed and businesses stay on the right side of the law. But with ever-changing regulations, the task can quickly become complicated.

Faced with these challenges, employers turn to their HR and compliance providers for solutions and guidance. Responding to this need, these providers in turn count on a reliable partner to help them effortlessly deliver labor law poster compliance for their clients—and that's where PosterElite excels.

"Our mission is to empower HR, Payroll, and other workplace-focused providers to simplify compliance for their clients—helping them strengthen client relationships, increase revenue, and enhance their competitive edge," says Patrick Saeger, CEO.

Compliance for Evolving Workforce Needs

Help employers avoid costly fines and lawsuits by putting labor law poster compliance on autopilot—that's the promise PosterElite delivers. With automated updates and real-time notifications, businesses stay compliant without the need for manual tracking of regulatory changes.

PosterElite's solutions are designed to meet the needs of the modern workforce, covering physical posting requirements as well as digital solutions for remote and hybrid teams. These resources ensure full compliance with federal, state and local regulations.

Employers often face challenges staying up-to-date and fully compliant, particularly for remote or hybrid employees. Retail posters, while accessible, frequently fall short of offering complete and current compliance, and leave gaps in coverage for dispersed teams. PosterElite's patent-pending online services streamline digital labor law poster distribution, ensuring full compliance for remote and hybrid employees, and with New York State mandates for providing digital posters to all employees.

PosterElite's physical poster service for the worksite is designed to streamline compliance even further. Rather than distributing bulky, plastic-laminated posters, the company consolidates postings into a single, efficient format. By using durable, weather-resistant synthetic paper, PosterElite ensures long-lasting posters that provide near-equal resilience without the need for lamination. This method eliminates thousands of pounds of plastic waste, supporting a more sustainable approach to workplace compliance.

Backed by a dedicated partner success management team, PosterElite delivers exceptional customer service to its partners and their clients. This blend of cutting-edge technology and dedicated support ensures a hassle-free experience for partners and full compliance for their clients.

Automating Compliance, Amplifying Efficiency

Over the years, PosterElite has empowered over 1000 partners to provide essential compliance services to their clients. One of the most notable among them is a national, industry-leading PEO. Before partnering with PosterElite, the PEO faced significant challenges in managing labor law poster compliance, particularly with a workforce that included many remote and hybrid employees. Ordering, sending updates and distributing the correct posters based on location, industry and company size were time-consuming and prone to inaccuracies. These complexities led to inefficiencies and increased inquiries to the service desk.

With PosterElite's solution, the PEO was able to automate the entire process, saving hundreds of hours annually. For remote employees, the solution provided a simple way to share a link with clients and their employees, allowing the "always-up-to-date™" platform to handle compliance updates automatically. This shift improved operational efficiency while reducing the burden on service teams and mitigating compliance and legal risk for the PEO.

Another testament to PosterElite's impact comes from a prominent national HR technology provider. As its clients struggled with the increasing complexity of labor law compliance, the provider identified a need for a more efficient and reliable solution. Turning to PosterElite, they integrated an automated, white-labeled compliance service into their platform, transforming how compliance was managed.
